INTRODUCTION

This collection of genealogical data for approximately 450 families, which are primarily in Middle Tennessee, was compiled by Caroline Clark Crockett (1867-1959), genealogist, civic leader, and wife of Dr. Sidney Scales Crockett of Nashville, Tennessee. It was received from Mrs. Austin Wilson, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Crockett, in 1960.

The materials in this finding aid measure approximately 6,600 items. There are no restrictions on the materials. Single photocopies of unpublished writings in the Caroline Clark Crockett Papers may be made for purposes of scholarly research.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The bulk of these papers relate to Middle Tennessee families and to the families on the Eastern seaboard from whom they were descended. Although Mrs. Crockett did some field work in local courthouses and elsewhere, the greater part of her research seems to have been made in the Tennessee State Library and Archives. Consequently, a large portion of this material is otherwise available. The collection does, however, have the advantage of containing in one file various information which has been culled from a number of sources. It can also be helpful in furnishing "clues" or "leads" for further research on a given or related family.

CONTAINER LIST

This is an index to the Caroline Clark Crockett Papers. The papers are arranged in file folders, numbered 1 – 295 inclusive. The information on the folder label is the same as in this index: Folder number, name of family, and number of pages of data.

In using this material, the following should be kept in mind:

- a. The internal arrangement of the papers on each family has been left as it was received. As such, it is often illogical or out of order, but it was felt that the time to further arrange was not justified.
- b. There is a great amount of duplication in these papers; penciled notes, for example, followed by typed copies and carbons thereof. No effort has been made to weed the collection of duplications.
- c. The index which follows does not list every name which appears in this collection. Some listings are too brief or inconsequential that a false impression of available data would be given were they included. Others are so buried within the material on other families that such a careful reading and indexing did not seem feasible.
- d. Where one file obviously includes more than one family, we have added see and see also references, but we do not suggest that these references are by any means inclusive.
